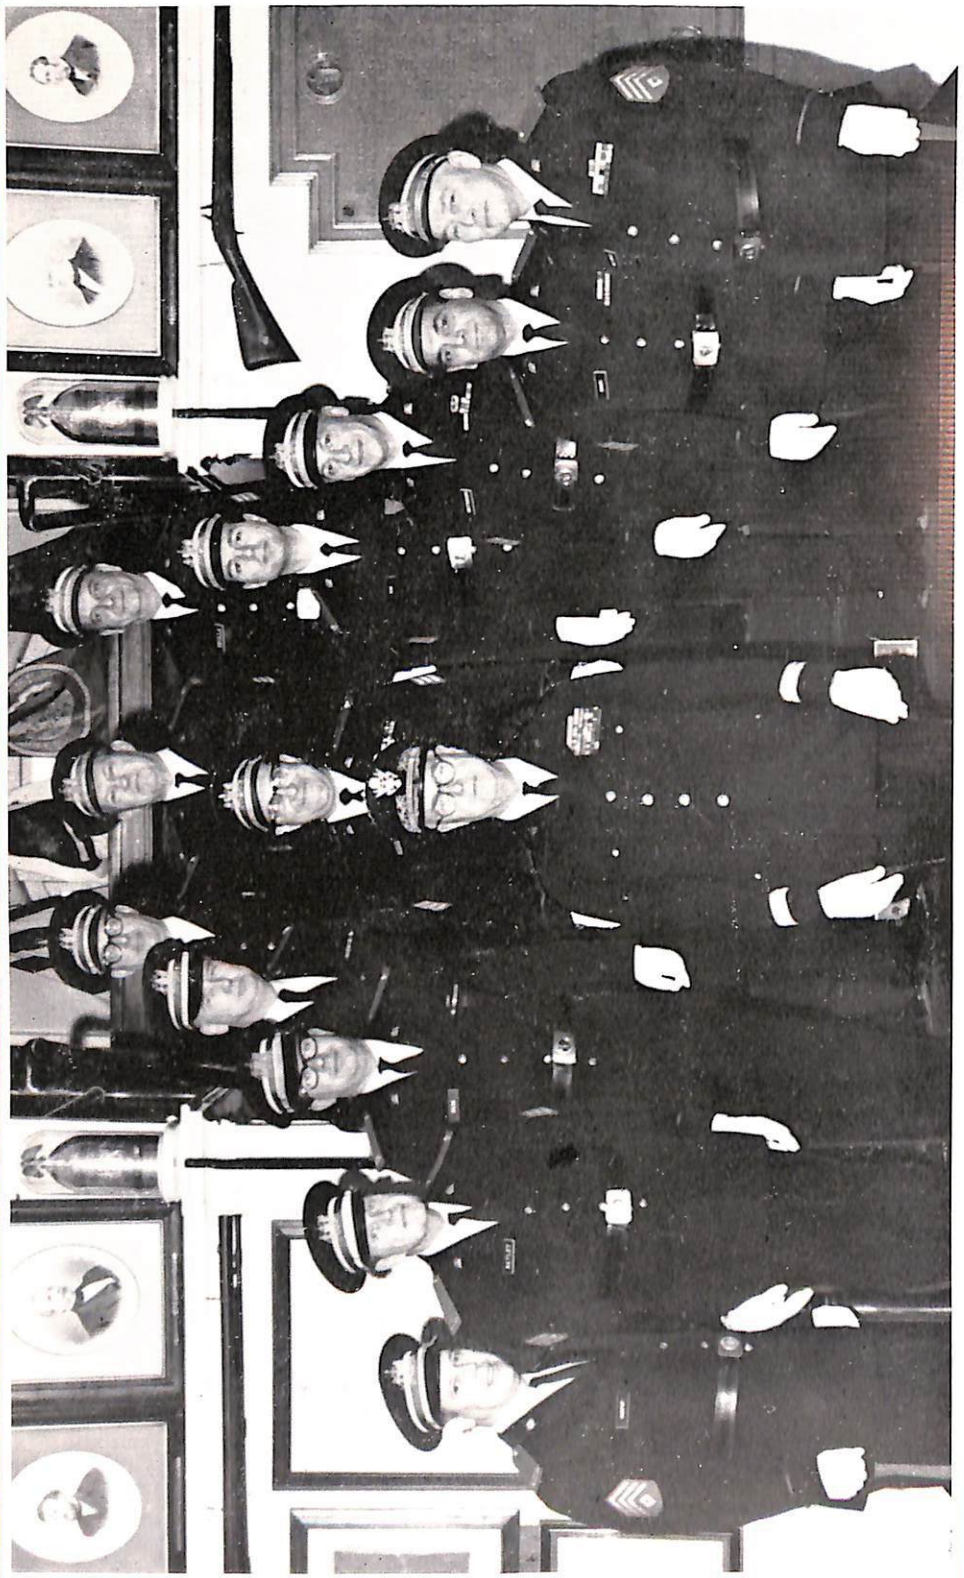
COMMANDER IN CHIEF

JOHN A. VOLPE



A FAREWELL MESSAGE TO THE ANCIENT & HONORABLE ARTILLERY COMPANY

When a man belongs to an organization of great traditions and historic merit such as our Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company, it is with some humility and trepidation that he seeks to serve his fellow-members in an elective office. The past roster of those to whom he must measure up is long and distinguished.

With this in mind, we twelve sergeants of 1967-68 started out determined to do our best to be equal to the task before us. As the year comes to a close, we realize that if we have achieved success in our tenure of service, and if we have brought enjoyment to the company, it was the company's own esprit de corps, its unity of purpose and comradeship which made all things proceed smoothly.

To everyone who participated in the year's meetings, events, and tour of duty, to you who by your good will have filled us with happy memories, we give sincere thanks. May the future sergeants find, as we have, that the pleasure they derive will far exceed the work entailed. We pledge them our support and encourage them in their endeavors.

Sincerely,

SERGEANTS 1967-68

THE ANCIENT AND HONORABLE ARTILLERY COMPANY OF MASSACHUSETTS

1638 - 1968

The Oldest Chartered Military Organization in the Western Hemisphere

As the settlements which followed the landing at Plymouth increased and spread there was no organized military force for protection against the Indians. So-called "Train Bands" were formed in different settlements but these were only local volunteer companies and there was no joint action or centralized authority. Thus the subject of adequate military protection soon became a matter of serious consideration. Many of the settlers had been members in England, of the Honourable Artillery Company at London (organized and chartered in 1537) and it was natural that the military training they had received in that Company should lead them to form a similar organization in the new country. In 1637 a Company was formed for instruction in discipline and tactics, and that year Governor Winthrop was petitioned for a Charter. He refused the request because he feared the establishment of a military force which might overthrow the civil power. However, the Governor finally granted a Charter on March 16, 1638, and on the first Monday in June following, an election of Officers was held on Boston Common. The Common then being an open field leading down to the Charles River, the most convenient place to cast the ballots was on the head of the drum, which was placed in front of the Company. Since that time the Company has held its election on the Common on the first Monday in June and ceremony of casting the votes on the Drum Head has been a traditional event of the day for over three hundred years, the only exceptions being the years 1687 to 1689, when meetings of the Company were suppressed by Governor Andros, and from 1775 to 1785, when meetings were discontinued on account of the Revolutionary War.

The first Captain commanding the Company was Robert Keayne, whose home was on the corner of State and Washington Streets. Keayne had been a member of The Honourable Artillery Company of London. Upon his death, he left in his will to the Town of Boston the land at the head of State Street for a Town House together with money to build it providing, however, that "the Military Company of Massachusetts" should have a room in the Town House for an Armory. This is the land on which the old State House now stands the gift of which was accepted by the Town of Boston.

In its Armory, the Company maintains a Military Museum and Library which is without equal in the United States. Here are relics of every war in which this Country has engaged since its settlement. Many of these are Museum pieces and have been on display at various times in the Boston Museum of Fine Arts. On the risers of the thirteen steps which lead up to the Headquarters room of the Company are commemorated in bronze plates, the names of the thirteen States in the order in which they accepted the Constitution. Around the walls of the Armory are the portraits of most of the Captains who have commanded the Company since 1638 to the present day. The Armory is open to the public daily, and many thousands of visitors from every part of the country and many from abroad, are registered every year upon the Guest Book.

"The position of the members of the Company in the social, civil and military life of the Colony indicates the respect which people entertained for the Company as well as the ability and prominence of its members. They were first in organizing churches and supporting them, they were prominent in framing and also in administering the laws of the Colony; they were foremost in the introduction of manufacturing and the extension of trade in Boston. They were the chief military minds of the Colony and among the first in its defense. Many of them were public benefactors, devoting somewhat of their wealth to education, religion and charity.

"They trod the fields of every battlefield of New England in the first century of the Company's existence; they fought for freedom on foreign soil; they judged the courts; they pleaded at the bar; they instituted town government and levelled forests; were active in settling the towns of the frontier. Nine-tenths of the Company were loyal to the Colonies in the Revolution, and by their experience in the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company they served on every battlefield where the banner of Massachusetts waved, from Bunker Hill and Bennington, through Valley Forge to Yorktown."

This is the Company that Washington knew, that Franklin saw march through the streets of Boston, that John Adams and John Quincy Adams visited; the same Company which has always stood for, and always will stand for, the best in citizenship.

YOUR HOME ON CAPE COD

Cape Cod has been immortalized in story and song as one of the most wonderful vacation areas in the world. And now that the Cape Cod National Seashore has been established, its long stretches of clean, white beaches, its crystal lakes and ponds, its tangy salt air and pine-scented woodlands will preserve the open spaces and the rural seaside charm for Cape Codders — present and future.

Vacationists know the Cape for its unsurpassed sailing and boating, swimming, fishing and other outdoor sports, its theatres and art shows, and as a grand place to just relax. But, there is another side to the Cape.

Each year, more and more people are discovering that Cape Cod is where they want to make a permanent home.

If you are planning on retirement or semi-retirement, if the Cape is within commuting distance to your business — come to Cape Cod. You will find that living here is a rewarding experience.

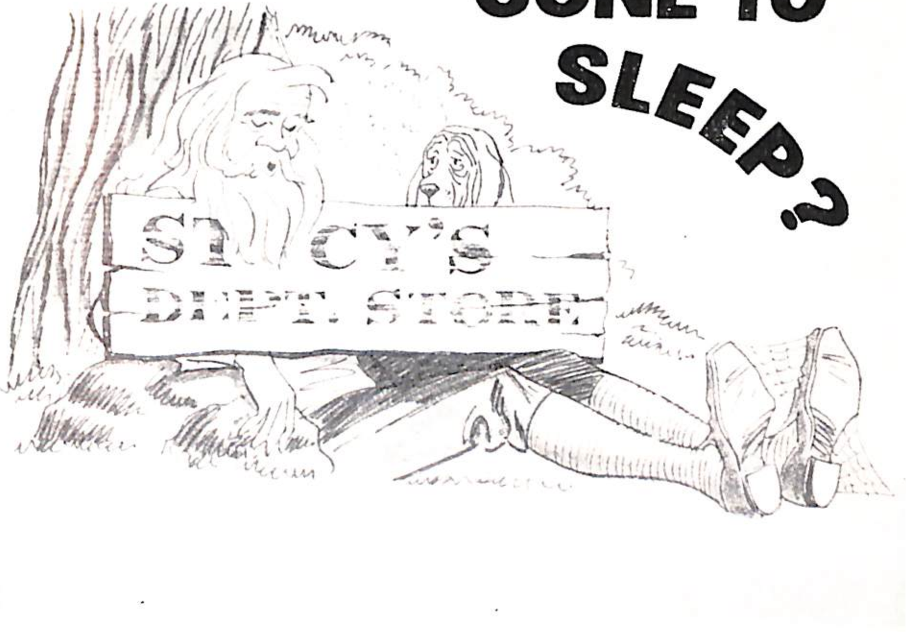
HAS YOUR SIGN GONE TO SLEEP?



Your sign should be a business getter. Is it? Or is it dim, out-of-date, a lame duck? If so, it's costing you business instead of attracting it.

To your potential customers, your sign is you. That's why Donnelly takes such care to design a sign that's custom-planned for each customer.

Look around you. The smartest, most memorable signs in New England are Donnelly signs. They're the ones that win business for their companies, year after year after year.

Your good name is Donnelly's business. Let us plan a smart, hard-working sign for you. You owe it to your future. Do it today! Call us for consultation . . . no obligation, of course.
